Tanker Emissions
Data Capture & Reporting
A Straightforward Solution

Accurately recording and reporting your ship emission data is now critical to your success:

- statutory reporting
- legislation and bunker restrictions in key geographical areas
- metrics for comparing emissions efficiency between ships
- ready for impending emissions trading
- and, most importantly, a real confidence you fully understand the emissions across your whole fleet at all times

HubSE can provide you with a straightforward solution to record and report comprehensive emission statistics quickly and easily.

The Solution:

1. light, easy-to-use shipboard element where the initial crucial consumption data is recorded
2. simple method of posting the data back to our exchange service where it is checked and validated before being accepted into our calculation and reporting service
3. comprehensive set of services from where you can run comprehensive reports or download data extracts for your own analysis
